Here is the program description:

Connecticut Women - Global Impact

"Connecticut may be a small state, but its women have had a major impact on the international stage. In this interactive program, students will explore the stories of women like Margaret Bourke-White, pioneering photographer who documented many of the major events of the early 20th century; Barbara Hackman Franklin, international business expert who opened U.S. trade with China; Indra Nooyi, Chairman & CEO of PepsiCo; and Carolyn Miles, CEO of Save the Children."
